Cossacks Shoot Down Student Leaders of Odessa Mob.

BARRICADE THE STREETS.

Cars Overturned to Form Defences Against the Troops.

Czar Asked to Declare Martial Law in the City—Twenty-seven Dead and Many Wounded Reported—St. Petersburg Has Quiet Sunday—Trepoff Put in Charge of Troops Around the University to Enforce Order Against Meetings There—Czar Again Ready to Grant Liberal Reforms, With Count Witte as Premier—Manifesto Monday—Regiments at Kieff Said to Have Mutinied.

Special Cable Despatches in THE SUN.
ODESSA, Oct. 28.—Evening.—In a clash between troops and students this afternoon the soldiers, without giving warning, fired into the crowd, killing twenty and wounding sixty.

It is stated that in another fight that occurred in a different part of the city seven were killed and thirty wounded.

It is reported that the students are arming and organizing a retaliatory attack on the troops.

Reports from Kieff state that three regiments in the southwestern part of the province have mutinied. Alarming reports are current here questioning the fidelity of three infantry battalions.

The British Consul is arranging to embark the English residents on ships in the harbor if necessary. All public resorts are closed.

The university alone is brightly illuminated to-night. The students are holding a stormy meeting there, from which the public is excluded.

Owing to the outbreak of street fighting this evening, the Governor applied to St. Petersburg for permission to restore martial law. No reply has yet been received.

BARRICADES IN THE STREETS.
Troops hold the streets in all directions. The fighting began at 3:30 o'clock. Workmen and students erected barricades, using street cars for the purpose.

Many of the men who were wounded by the fire of the Cossacks were taken to drug stores for treatment.

MOB OVERTURNS STREET CARS.
ODESSA, Oct. 29.—The city is greatly excited to-day. Two hundred thousand people are on the streets but the troops keep them moving.

The employees of the street railways have refused to join the strike. As a result a mob overturned twenty cars in Richelieu street.

A number of students raided a gun shop to-day. They had partly plundered the place when Cossacks arrived. In a scuffle that followed, three students were wounded and a score arrested. The regular troops are acting in a moderate manner, but the Cossacks are provocatively brutal.

KAULBARS FEARS ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS.
In an interview to-day Gen. Kaulbars, commanding the troops here, admitted that the position was grave and threatening. Nevertheless, he did not feel warranted in asking for authority to reimpose martial law. He said there were 28,000 troops in the city, and 6,000 more were en route.

His great fear was an anti-Jewish outbreak. If this should occur he would use his whole force to protect those attacked.

Referring to a Socialist meeting, at which he, the Civil Governor, the Chief of Police and other officials were condemned to death, he smiled and said he had been used to that in Manchuria, where he was always under sentence of death.

The Civil Governor, who was also interviewed, seemed to be anxious. He admitted that it was possible for anything to happen. He deplored Saturday's collision between the police and the boy and girl students, and declared that the police had exceeded their orders; but, he added, it should be remembered that the students were exceedingly provocative.

At a meeting attended by 225 doctors to-day it was resolved to refuse to aid any soldier, Cossack or military or civil official who is injured in fighting the people.

CROWDS ORDERLY IN THE CAPITAL.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 29, 9:30 P.M.—Perfect order has prevailed here all day. Neither the government nor the strikers made any demonstration, and the civil population mostly remained indoors.

Accepted that the strike is only a protest against the system of government, and there is little expectation of more than a protest.

The hospitals, however, are prepared for contingencies and many beds were in readiness for surgical cases to-day. None of them was occupied, but the medical wards were overcrowded, owing to the strike of the pharmacists.

As the council of the university refused to stop the meetings there or close the building in accordance with the ordinance forbidding assemblies except in three specified halls Gen. Trepoff surrounded

GAS KILLS SIX MINE EXPERTS.

Had Gone Down to Put in Order Pit Where Two Recently Died in Explosion.

MONONGAHELA, Pa., Oct. 29.—The entire force of working officials of the Hazel Kirke mine, four miles from here, were killed in an explosion in the mine this forenoon. Five men were killed outright and the sixth died on reaching the bottom of the shaft and sending up the alarm.

Two weeks ago there was an explosion in the same mine and two lives were lost. Since that time the mine had been closed in order to another the fire, penned to one part of the mine by brattices. Last evening it was thought the mine was ready to open and Manager Hornicket called on his fire bosses, his mine foreman and his machine boss to go into the mine with him to put it in order.

The six men dropped into the shaft shortly after last midnight. About 4 o'clock this morning Andrew Roder managed to reach the bottom of the shaft and give an alarm. He was dead by the time the cage reached the bottom and the odor of gas and fire reduction in rates on Harlem River branch (N. Y. & H. & H. R. Co.) is announced effective Nov. 1st on one system. Improved interborough service provides facilities for quick transit.—Ad.

damp told the fate of the others. Rescuing parties were formed and about noon they reached the five bodies, which lay close together.

Manager Hornicket was one of the expert mining men of the country and was wealthy. He had been part owner of the Hazel Kirke mine and shared in the sale profits, which were $1,000,000.

EVA BOOTH ILL.

Salvation Army Commander Cancels Her Speaking Engagements.

Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, was down to deliver two addresses at Ford's Opera House, Baltimore, yesterday, but did not appear. It was announced from the stage that she was ill in this city with appendicitis.

Miss Booth returned to this city recently from a two weeks trip through Pennsylvania. She was very much fatigued and went to her home in Chappaqua after a short call at the national headquarters of the army, 120 West Fourteenth street. Those in charge at the headquarters last night said that the illness was not appendicitis. They had received word, they said, that the commander was suffering from exhaustion due to hard work in Pennsylvania. They had feared that she was afflicted with nervous prostration, but a physician said that the illness was not at all serious and that the patient would be as well as ever after a few days rest.

TRENT HART, Ind., Oct. 29.—Mrs. Clara Kraus of Coal City to-day became the mother of her twentieth child. Mrs. Kraus is 41 years old and has been married twenty-five years. There are no twins in her family.

JEROME'S INSURANCE PLANS.

SAYS, IF REJECTED, HE'LL SEEK HUGHES HELP

And Give Up All His Own Time to Prosecuting Every One Who Is Within Reach of the Law—Osborne's Attack on Nominators an Indorsement of Them.

Mr. Jerome last night issued this statement in answer to the Osborne revelation of Saturday night, that Jerome had the support of men who were guilty of being connected with insurance companies.

"My urbane and learned friend changes his ground of attack on me so frequently that it is difficult to keep abreast of his line of reasoning. We are having a three weeks' campaign. In the first week of the campaign I was in his opinion 'wholly inefficient.' He cited certain specific instances the only effect of which was to display his ignorance of the law and the facts, and finding that bubble was pricked, he commenced the second week of the campaign with the charge that I was a fool, contained in his graphic and now famous moral statement 'that if he (Jerome) is not getting it for himself, he must be a fool.' Admitting at the end of his discourse that I was not getting it, he placed himself on record with the fine moral sentiment that, having the opportunity to graft and not grafting, I must be a fool.

"And now he begins the third week of the campaign with a labored discourse in which he would prove to the people of this city that I am a knave. It is not possible to reply in detail to the 10,000 words of flimsy handed out by him to the press, and printed in part as his speech last night. I can only mention one or two of the points contained in that extraordinary oration.

"I am in league, he says in substance, with the insurance grafters, because some honorable members of my profession who signed my certificate of nomination had been to be retained by certain persons connected with the insurance companies in this city.

"He finds evidence of gross wickedness and deceit in the fact that a circular sent out was signed 'The Jerome Nominators,' and that it did not contain the names of the persons who were the Jerome nominators. He seems to have forgotten that there were four thousand names actually filed, who had signed my petitions, and many thousands more names signed to these petitions which never were filed, and that it would be impossible to send out a circular to which should be appended all of these names.

"With his customary recklessness he says, as quoted in the Times, that after returning from an interview with Messrs. Harriman and Schiff, he (Jerome) called the reporters around him, held a special Grand Jury himself, and then announced his verdict that Schiff and Harriman were not guilty of any wrongdoing. Had he taken the trouble to inquire before he made this reckless accusation he would have seen that all the papers of that date reported me as having given out a typewritten statement, which was most carefully prepared, and which did not in any way, shape or manner say that Schiff or Harriman were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

"The statement was in relation to the so-called blind pool in Union Pacific stock, and simply states that I had seen Messrs. Harriman and Schiff and had examined the so-called syndicate agreement and that the Equitable Life Insurance Company was not a party to that agreement.

"Perhaps the fairest thing I could do in regard to the insurance matter would be now to take into my confidence the public and tell them exactly what I propose to do if reelected.

"If reelected District Attorney of this county I shall go to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and ask a special appropriation which will enable me to retain Charles E. Hughes as special counsel. I will then turn over the ordinary routine of my office to my chief of staff, and I will devote all of my own time and that of as many assistants as may be necessary to assisting Mr. Hughes in prosecuting each and every person in connection with the insurance scandals who may have done anything to bring them within the reach of the criminal law.

"Mr. Hughes knows this insurance situation as no other living man knows it. His ability and integrity are known, not only to the bar, but to the people generally, both as the result of his many years of practice in this county and especially because of his activities as counsel to the Gas Committee and to the Insurance Committee.

"This will be the way, in my opinion, most speedily and effectually to bring to justice those connected with the insurance matter and who have committed criminal acts.

"Up to this point I have been acting in conjunction with the committee, and after conference with its chairman, and with a sincere desire not to in any way embarrass their actions by premature activity on my part, believing that as much as it is to be desired that wrongdoers should be brought to justice, it is of more importance that all of the facts in connection with this insurance matter should be known, in order that a recurrence of the wicked acts which have done so much to bring our business community into disrepute.

"It is extremely difficult for me, even with the full text of Mr. Osborne's remarks before me, to understand the process of his reasoning. I am in some way dishonored and made a man unfit to prosecute the insurance cases, because I have been indorsed by certain people he names. It is curious to take up from the full text of his speech his own opinion of these gentlemen, who in some way dishonor me by their support.

"It is worth while taking the names of a few gentlemen who dishonor me and render me improper to prosecute the insurance cases, and to quote Mr. Osborne's characterization of them.

"Of William B. Hornblower he says: 'A gentleman of great importance in this community.'

"Of Mr. John G. Milburn he says: 'A gentleman of great eminence in this community.'

"Of Francis Lynde Stetson he says: 'A high toned and honorable lawyer.'

"Of Paul D. Cravath he says: 'One of the best of our lawyers.'
